BACKGROUND AND LEGISLATION

BACKGROUND

The Education and Care Services National Law Act 2010 (National Law) requires services to deliver an educational program (curriculum) that is based on an approved learning framework. In Victoria, approved learning frameworks for the early childhood sector are the Early Years Learning Framework 2022 V2 (EYLF) (Belonging, Being & Becoming) (refer to Sources), the Victorian Early Years Learning and Development Framework (VEYLDF) (refer to Sources) and My Time Our Place (MTOPI), Framework for School age care in Australia 2022 V2 (refer to Source). The Frameworks are underpinned by contemporary theory and research evidence and provide educators with a thorough understanding of the pedagogical approach to early childhood curriculum in Australia.

Part 4.1 of the Education and Care Services National Regulations 2011 (National Regulations) outlines the operational requirements for educational program and practice within services, including the requirements for documentation of assessments in relation to the educational program. There is no prescribed method in the National Law or National Regulations for documenting assessment of children's learning. Educators daily practice and curriculum decision-making should be guided by an approved learning framework. An approved learning framework provides broad direction for educators to facilitate children's learning. Each service must determine a method that suits their individual circumstances. To meet the requirements of the National Regulations, the assessment must include an analysis of each child's learning. Collecting this information enables educators to plan effectively for each child's learning and development. It can also be used by educators to stimulate reflection on their own values, beliefs and teaching practices, and to communicate about children's learning with children and their families.

The National Law and Regulations provide no specific guidelines for documenting educational programs, assessments, or evaluations, allowing services to choose electronic, visual, or paper-based methods that suit their needs. The amount and method of documentation will vary based on factors such as the number, ages, and capabilities of the children, as well as their attendance frequency. Services are encouraged to explore and select the styles and methods that best support their children, families, and educators.

The National Regulations require the appointment of an Educational Leader to lead and support the development and implementation of the educational program (or curriculum) at the service (Regulation 118). This person will have suitable qualifications and experience, as well as a thorough understanding of the Early Years Learning Framework V2 and/or the Victorian Early Years Learning and Development Framework, enabling them to guide other educators in planning and reflection, and to mentor colleagues in implementation practices (Guide to the Education and Care Services National Law and the Education and Care Services National Regulations, p85 – refer to Sources).

The aim of Quality Area 1: Educational Program and Practice of the National Quality Standard is to ensure that the educational program and practice is stimulating and engaging and enhances children's learning and development.

DEFINITIONS

The terms defined in this section relate specifically to this policy. For regularly used terms e.g. Approved provider, Nominated supervisor, Notifiable complaints, Serious incidents, Duty of care, etc. refer to the Definitions file.

Approved learning framework: a guide which provides a vision for learning, pedagogical principles, practices and general goals or outcomes for children's learning and how they might be attained. It provides a scaffold to assist educators to develop their own, more detailed curriculum relevant to their setting and the children and families attending.

In Victoria, the approved learning frameworks (refer to Sources) include:

- The Early Years Learning Framework V2 (EYLF) - Belonging, Being & Becoming
- The Victorian Early Years Learning and Development Framework (VEYLDF)
- My Time, Our Place V2 (MTOF) - Framework for School Age Care in Australia

Critical reflection: is a meaning-making process that informs future practice in ways that demonstrate an understanding of each child's learning, development and wellbeing, as well as the implications for equity and social justice. It involves examining and analysing events, experiences and practices from a range of perspectives to inform future planning and decision-making (Early Years Learning Framework 2022 V2 – refer to Sources).

Educational program: a program referred to in section 168 of the Law. An educational program is to contribute to the following outcomes for each child:

- the child will have a strong sense of identity;
- the child will be connected with and contribute to his or her world;
- the child will have a strong sense of wellbeing;
- the child will be a confident and involved learner;
- the child will be an effective communicator.

Curriculum: in the early childhood setting, curriculum includes all the interactions, experiences, activities, routines and events, planned and unplanned, that occur in an environment designed to foster children's learning, development and wellbeing (Early Years Learning Framework 2022 V2– refer to Sources; adapted from Te Whariki).

Each child: A phrase used throughout the National Quality Standard (NQS) to emphasise the importance of an individualised approach. It highlights the need for educators to consider and respond to the unique strengths, needs, and circumstances of every child. For example, in the statement “each child’s current knowledge, ideas, culture and interests provide the foundation for the program”, the emphasis is on tailoring the curriculum to the individual.

Educational Leader: The approved provider of an education and care service must designate, in writing, a suitably qualified and experienced educator, co-ordinator or other individual to lead the development and implementation of educational programs at the service (Regulation 118). This person should have a thorough understanding of the Early Years Learning Framework (or other approved learning framework), be able to guide other educators in their planning and reflection, and mentor colleagues in the implementation of their practice.

Learning: is the process of gaining knowledge, skills and dispositions. From birth, children naturally use exploration to expand their intellectual, physical, social, emotional and creative capacities. Life-long learning is acknowledged as a self-motivated process that extends intellectual, vocational and personal horizons, beginning in early childhood and continuing throughout life. (Early Years Learning Framework 2022 V2 – refer to Sources).

Learning framework: Refer to approved learning framework above.

Learning outcome: A skill, knowledge or disposition that educators can actively promote in early childhood settings, in collaboration with children and families.

Play-based learning: A context and process through which children actively explore, organise, and make sense of their social worlds by engaging with people, objects, and ideas.
